

Studycast Integration Program

Seamlessly integrate with the Studycast system, out of the box.

The Studycast system has been improving medical imaging workflows for more than 15 years. This Integration Program tackles two of the most common barriers to AI adoption in medical imaging by eliminating complex setup and ensuring a frictionless workflow for the end user.

Become an Integration Partner

Studycast is now offering a seamless process for exchanging data with Studycast Integration Partners.

Studycast clients can activate an integration with any of our Integration Partners within a few hours.

All of our clients have the ability to view Integration Partners and request that you activate your AI tools for them. Within the Studycast system, clients can follow a link to your landing page to make this request.

Once we receive your approval, this integration will be activated for the client.

When an integration is active, a client can forward to your AI tool by selecting an individual exam. We can also automate their workflow, so that studies can be sent to your analysis tool based on study type, or other DICOM tag information.

How to get started

The technical setup and verification period can be completed in under two weeks. During the verification period, the DICOM TLS connection is established, basic technical information for the information exchange is followed, and measurement mapping information is verified.

With the signed partnership agreement and verification period complete, your Integration information will be available to the Studycast customer base.

To become a partner, contact us. We will send you the necessary documents and information to begin the integration process.

FAQs

You have other partners already, is there an opportunity here for adoption of our tools?

Yes! Our system is vendor-neutral, and clients are able to integrate with multiple vendors simultaneously. Clients can have as many AI integrations as they would like, so there is no vendor lock-in. Even if a Studycast client has another AI integration activated, they can still use your services.

Are you a marketplace?

No, our integration does not operate as a marketplace, and your relationships with our clients will still be your own to manage. Core Sound Imaging will not bill clients on your behalf. While Core Sound Imaging will make your analysis tools available to all clients, you can manage this relationship and ensure accurate messaging.

Do clients need to install plugins or additional software to get started?

The framework is already in place to integrate through our system, and clients will not need to install any additional plugins or software on their devices to get up and running.
